ANNOUNCEMENTS

W. C. T. U. meeting Monday at 3 p.m., 35 Shetucket street, Room C.

Davis Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Robbing a friend's safe to prevent him from being swindled by a confidence man is the novel method adopted by Charles Ray in his new picture, "Crooked Straight," showing at the Davis theatre, Monday and Tuesday of next week. Mr. Ray has the opportunity in this film to do another of his inimitable rural characterizations that have made him a favorite with screen fans. This time he is the country boy who goes to the city and falls into evil ways, becoming the partner of a safe-cracker. The news of his mother's death brings him back to the old town with the resolution to reform. There he wins the love of a good girl and is later able to prove his reformation by reaching his father from being swindled by his erstwhile crook-partner. A well balanced cast, including Margery Wilson and Otto Hoffman, supports Mr. Ray.

The second big feature on this bill is "Fighting Cressy," starring Blanche Sweet. The plot of "Fighting Cressy" has to do with a feud carried on by two old settlers over the boundary line of their property. Youngsters try to scatter sunshine when Cressy, the daughter of one of the pioneers, loses her heart to a member of a rival camp. Before the feud is reached, you are greeted with picturesque scenes in which Cressy, spirited, virginal and utterly charming, is the dominant figure. You catch the glamour of those early days in the Golden West.

To put a nearby finish to this exceptional programme, Charlie Chaplin will provide laughs a plenty in his latest four million dollar comedy, "Day's Reckoning." This is a show you cannot afford to miss.

Davis Theatre Today.

There will be four complete shows at the Davis theatre today, at 1:30, 3:15, 4:45 and 8:15, and this will be your last opportunity to see Mary Pickford in "The Hoodlum," pronounced by every one as the finest picture ever Mary has ever appeared in.

"The Hoodlum" is essentially a comedy romance picturing the role of John Howard Bannister, son of a wealthy Bostonian. He suffers a reverse in his first love affair, is later pursued by a society bad whom he does not love, and finally falls in love with a girl in the remote Far East. The society girl who seeks him out has pursued him half way around the world and sets up an intricate web of two hearts united by affection rather than the instinctive means for seeking through lies. Elaine Hammerstein will also be seen in "Greater Than Rome," a romantic drama of society life, and the Pathe news will complete the bill for today.

Another instance of famous literature successfully adapted as a photoplay is "Eastward Ho!" the magazine serial by the well known author, William Butler Yeats. In the story, a star quality as well known—William Russell, his handsome, athletic, Eastern, Hollywood comes to the Davis theatre Sunday. This is a thing-adventure story of red-blooded American manhood, in which a brave westerner, a man of action, a man of action, a lot of thrills in some tremendous fights, and more thrills in love complications, when he carries his manhood to the rescue of a young girl who is being held captive by a villainous gangster who has kidnapped an innocent girl. The gang atmosphere is remarkably true to life and the picture, which is a hit with Fox production, brings with interest for those who seek the best in motion pictures.

The remainder of the program includes "The Post Travel Pictures, Topics of the Day, the latest Current Events and a funny Mutt & Jeff comedy."

TO THE DAVIS THEATRE

An unqualified and enduring success in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, and acclaimed the country over as the most successful musical comedy on tour, Tumble In, a hit splashing wave of a musical comedy, under the direction of Arthur Hammerstein, Lenau Selwyn & Co. comes to the Davis theatre Friday evening, Feb. 6th.

A cast of Broadway players, brought by Arthur Hammerstein, will introduce Adm. Meade, Ed. Miska, Edna Pittsford, John Philbrick, Carl K. Kneiser, general manager, Charles Knowlton, John Kelly, Alice Johnson, Joe Dolan, Mabel Perry and others.

The choruses of Tumble In strike, representing 30 lovely grown up babies of teasing beauty and taking away will serve as an animated background to an entertainment of laugh-laden, toe-tickling tunes, a corking comedy cast, a garden of gorgeous gowns, and with all scientific, satirical, stunning.

Otto Herbach with his profile and etched nose has dined out the book and review, while Fred Astaire, who has not a score of "Ivory," don't care melodies that will haunt you into your dreams. Won't You Help Me Out? Tumble In, a hit of the highest type, just a scant few of the more popular songs.

Seal side Wednesday. Prices, 50c, $1.10, $2.25 plus war tax. Mail orders accepted now and filled in the order of receipt.

STRAND.

The Strand big program for today is the best show seen in Norwich. There is one big continuous laugh from start to finish. The lovely Minnie, which comes in a full stage comedy singing, talking and dancing act, is the feature act in the program. They impersonate Jewish comedians, and it is an act that is full of fun from start to finish. Emmett and Moore have a great act which is full of Irish stories and the good old Irish songs which they know how to sing.
